

Looking for Linguistic Annotators

Job Description

The annotators will collect texts from Wikipedia/WikiNews and edit them in order to create natural temporal inferences between short fragments of text.

The work will be guided by a post-doc from the Natural Language Processing lab at Bar-Ilan Computer Science Department. The annotation work can be performed remotely. Guidance meetings will be held at Bar-Ilan University.

Two annotators will be hired for about 50 hours each one.

Job is available as of mid-July and to be completed by end of August.

Annotators are required to be Native Speakers of English

Preference for students of Linguistics

Contact: Assaf Toledo – a.toledo.uu.nl@gmail.com, 0523-327504.